Three Narrow Escapes From Death At Front, Told By Cpl. Haines

L.-Cpl. M. E. Haines, who is serving in France with the 6th Canadian Armored Regiment, wrote an interesting letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Haines, recently. L.-Cpl. Haines tells how he narrowly escaped death three times during the fighting between Caen and the Seine.

L.-Cpl. Haines grew up in Newmarket, attending the King George, Stuart Scott and Newmarket high schools. Before enlisting in October, 1941, he was employed at a woollen mill in Georgetown. He trained at Camp Borden and Long Branch and went overseas in October, 1941, going to France on D-day.

L.-Cpl. Haines' wife, formerly Jacqueline Stoddart of Shelburne, lives in Brampton.

"The last time I wrote we were in Caen, getting ready for the next push, which, as you know now, dealt a knock-out blow to Jerry," wrote L.-Cpl. Haines. "We have been on the move ever since that show started and are now well on our way to the Seine. The going has been tough most of the way, but at present we are just coasting along with Jerry ahead of us on the run. It was during this show that I nearly ceased to exist and I'm sure it was only through the grace of God that I'm alright now.

"My first close call came just before we left Caen. We had just finished supper and a group of us were lying on our beds beside the road under a make-shift tent when a shell landed within 20 feet of us. We didn't hear it coming and the first thing we knew we were being showered with gravel and rubble much to our dismay and surprise.

"Of all the men who were within the danger zone of that shell not one of us was touched and if you knew what shell-fire was, you'd agree that our escape was miraculous. I think the fact that the shell dug its way deep into the ground before exploding explains the situation. If it had exploded on impact we would have all been forgotten men by now.

"The next close one happened on our thrust from Caen and during one of my trips to a forward tank formation with an officer. A shell from an 88mm. gun landed on the road between the front and rear wheels and all it did was break the windshield and a sring shackle. That shell was either a dud or an armor-piercing shell and had it exploded I would have been on equal terms with the air force for a limited period of time.

"On another occasion I was driving across a field in search of one of our tanks when my car struck a small mine with the result that I lost a wheel and tire and a few more pounds which I can ill afford. Had that mine been of the usual calibre once again I would have taken a ride in the air without knowing it."

L.-Cpl. Haines says he has had "the satisfaction of seeing Germans surrender by the thousands. They are so badly disorganized and confused it is almost pitiful. The prisoners include men from every race in Europe and Asia and they are sure a weird looking collection of men."

L.-Cpl. Haines thinks France is much like Canada. "We are in lovely country at present and it is a pleasant change from the bareness of the country we have left. This particular part reminds me very much of the Orangeville district—rolling farm land, dotted with numerous orchards and bush and small villages nestled in the valleys. The main highways are good in this country, much better than in England and they also remind me of roads in Canada.

"From what I have seen so far, this country is very much like Ontario and the weather is very much the same too."

L.-Cpl. Haines has one brother, Pte. Harry Haines, serving in England. Two sisters, Betty and June, live at home.

646 Taxpayers Vote On Council Proposal; 544 For; 102 Against

Newmarket taxpayers voted five to one in favor of the purchase of Newmarket arena by the town at Tuesday's polls. The final count Tuesday night was 544 in favor of the purchase, 102 against it.

Voting was light early in the day, picking up at noon and late afternoon despite the wet weather.

The final count by wards was as follows:

St. George, 1A, 116 for, 17 against; 1B, 96 for, 24 against;

St. Andrew, 2A, 66 for, 12 against; 2B. 110 for, 24 against;

St. Patrick, 3A, 105 for, 21 against; 3B, 51 for, four against.

Arrangements are being completed for the use of the rink this winter. It is necessary that a private bill be issued by the Ontario Legislature before the town can issue debentures for the payment of the rink, however, in view of the overwhelming majority in favor of the rink, no difficulty is expected and the rink will be used as if already owned by the community.

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, in a statement today, said: "It is pretty clear that the majority of the people in Newmarket want the arena. Those who opposed the purchase probably had good reasons for doing so but now that the vote is over, it is hoped that the citizens will whole-heartedly back the council's plans for community recreation."

Reeve Fred Lundy said: "I feel that the citizens still have confidence in their town and have a high regard for the welfare of the young people. By the vote, it would appear the citizens consider the arena to be a very definite part of our community life and have made sure of this contribution to our young people."

Deputy-Reeve Arthur Evans: "I am pleased to see that the citizens of Newmarket have done their part. It is now up to the council to follow through and during the years to come give our citizens a community centre they will be proud to own."

Councillor Joel Spillette: "I am delighted that the ratepayers voted yes on that all important subject. It would have been a misfortune had we failed to take advantage of this opportunity. When the arena becomes organized, it will be an asset to the town."

Councillor Frank Bowser: "The property owners supported a very worthy project and in the years to come will have no cause to regret the purchase of the arena."

Councillor A. V. Higginson: "I am very pleased at the outcome of the vote. A community owned arena will be a benefit to the youngsters of the town for years to come. It will provide a permanent place for community sports and entertainment, a great advantage for Newmarket."

'Shouldn't Be Much Longer' Sgt. Fred Evans Writes

Not the least of the trials of a prisoner of war is the constant moving from one camp to another that seems to have been the fate of several. In a letter dated May 15, Sgt. Fred Charles Evans writes his parents, Deputy-Reeve and Mrs. Arthur D. Evans, that he had just received his personal parcel which had been sent in January.

Cause of the delay was the several changes in Sgt. Evans' address. The parcel went first to a camp where he had been previously, and when it finally reached him, someone had helped himself to his chocolate bars, gum, pyjamas, socks and sweater. Telling this, Sgt. Evans added: "But I really can't complain when I consider the lot of others seen daily." Mrs. Evans interprets this to mean the Russian prisoners of war.

In the same letter, he says: "I've been away four years now but it shouldn't be much longer. Geale Hewson's friends dropped around to see us the other day. They are frequent visitors these days.

(Geale Hewson was reported missing following bombing operations over Europe recently. He was a boyhood friend of Sgt. Evans.)

In a letter dated May 22 he wrote: "Still receiving our food parcels, one per man each week, thank goodness."

In his latest letter, Sgt. Evans writes: "Seems as though we are always on the move now, doesn't it? But the whole camp is moving, name and all, so we will still remain 357, but a lot nearer home. It is going to be a shame to leave this camp because it certainly is the best we've struck so far. There is a chap here from Geale's outfit named Tom Crandall from Roche's Point. He went to N.H.S. and knows Stan Evans and Jack Luck quite well. We got along fine together. We are having lovely weather but the new camp should be hot in more ways than one. This is a move in the right direction anyway."

Fred's parents are hoping for more news of him every day but according to the communication from the department of national defense, ingoing and outcoming mail will be badly disrupted.

Lions Club Told Of Trip In North West Territories

"You hear a lot of criticism about the Alaskan highway, but believe me gentlemen, the Japs were mighty close when it was built. Something had to be done. The highway was our insurance policy."

These were the closing sentences of Norman Moore, vice-president of the Brantford Board of Trade, who spoke to the Newmarket Lions club Tuesday night on Yukon and North West Territories, and Alaska. Mr. Moore's address took the form of a travelogue in which he told of what he had seen in a recent trip through that country.

Following Mr. Moore's address, Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, who was guest at the Lions club with other members of the council, announced the outcome of the arena vote and urged the Lions club to co-operate with the council in making it a community effort of which all could be proud.

NEWMARKET ARTISTS ENJOY LONG WEEKEND

Some idea of the esteem in which artists are held abroad is evinced in the weekend that four Newmarket artists enjoyed at Bracebridge. The four, Bob Chadwick, Bill Hopkinson, George Luesby and Bert Wilson, were treated royally by the hotel management who gave them the only suite in the hotel.

The artists painted nearly 50 pitcures of Muskoka scenes. The manager helped the cause by running an impromptu show in which the Newmarket four had a chance to show their work while they worked.

"We haven't even a band with which to supply the music for armistice celebrations," said Mr. Little in asking the support of the council. "What a fine thing it would be if we could meet boys returning home with a band."

IS RECOVERING

W.C.T.U. MEETS

The Newmarket branch of the W.C.T.U. met on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. A. B. Stein took the devotionals. Miss L. Toole reported that at the Woodstock convention they thought that if every church member was an enthusiastic worker for temperance, there would be no need of any W.C.T.U. organizations.

SIX CARROTS IN ONE

Digging in his garden over the weekend, H. Spaulding, 11 Bruce St., uncovered a carrot which had six "fingers." The main root was six inches long and near its top, a second root protruded. Four other roots of varying size were joined to the main root. From above earth the carrot looked like any other. When it was pulled out, it was not unlike a folded baseball glove.

BLOOD CLINIC OCT. 20

The blood plasma clinic comes to Newmarket, Friday, Oct. 20, and once again the call is issued for donors.

It is difficult, now that victory is in sight, to maintain the enthusiasm that marked the clinics of a few months ago. The impression seems to be that there is less need for plasma than before.

Such is not the case. Much fighting is ahead. The road to Berlin is no easy road and invasion casualties have already sadly depleted the huge reserves in plasma which were built up over the past year.

Every effort must be made to keep ahead of the increasing demand for plasma. We can do our share on Oct. 20.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

(By Fire Chief Joseph Brammar)

Your local fire brigade takes advantage of fire prevention week to remind every home owner and tenant to use all precautions against fire, not only this week, but every week.

Keep all pipes clean and in good repair. Do not allow combustible materials to collect, dispose of them as garbage or salvage. Do not use wooden or cardboard containers for ashes. Good housekeeping is one of the best methods of fire prevention.

The provincial fire marshal's report shows an increase in 1943 of 1,200 fires over the previous year; but in the first nine months of this year, though the number of fires was reduced, fire loss was $7,897,063.

Every citizen can be a soldier in this campaign by simply being careful with fire, watching his smoking habits, and removing all fire hazards from his home or place of business. Should a fire start, send in an alarm at once. Delayed alarms mean greater losses.

PARTY LOYALTY

The other day, we were somewhat startled by the question: "What is your political party, what are your political affiliations?"

What startled us was the intensity with which the question was asked and the anxiety with which the answer was waited. When we said we had no party loyalties whatsoever, our interrogator departed shaking his head in utter disbelief.

We are sorry, of course, to be such a disappointment to our interrogator but we could never see just why anyone should be bound to any particular party. Indeed, we have passed many otherwise idle evenings theorizing on a system of partyless government to which candidates would be elected on individual merit and not on the strength of a party platform. We are always stopped short, however, by the thought of the bedlam that would be caused by each man trying to state his platform in a limited length of time.

In this circumstance, the party is an admirable time saver as it speaks for those whose general line of thought is the same.

Unquestioning loyalty, when to a party, has always seemed to us a misuse of that very desirable quality. The party patriot who cries: "My party, right or wrong," is a poor citizen to nourish in a democracy. The basis of representative government is not party representation but individual representation. One party can serve as a check on the second party but who will check the first if not the citizens? There is no such check in the party loyalty, the declaration of which, was sought by our questioner.

THE NAZI EVIL

Nowhere has the evil of Naziism been so apparent as in its studied corruption of education. Citizens of a free nation are accustomed to a system of education designed to improve the student. We find it difficult, therefore, to realize the terrible effect of Nazi teaching on youth. The result is not an educated citizen, but an unbalanced, mentally under-developed fanatic.

In the early years of the war, we heard rumors of Nazi academies in which German youth were educated to fanaticism. Allied troops are now meeting the product of those schools in ever increasing numbers. In a recent letter home, Bde. E. G. Jeffery writes: "The class of men we are fighting are rather a motley gang consisting of forced inhabitants of occupied countries down to the much-hated S.S. men. The latter are very stubborn and have to be almost annihilated before they give in. And then we have this Hitler youth who think that it is undying glory to fight for Der Fuehrer."

In recent days, two instances have occurred which have a direct bearing on Bde. Jeffery's letter. In the House of Commons, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden charged that Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler is laying the foundation of a Nazi underground to keep Naziism alive during the post-war occupation of Germany by the Allies.

The second instance is the capture of a German document ordering experienced Nazi officers to save themselves for the future. This document says in effect: Until a few months ago Germany was within sight of victory. Germany will win the third war. Save yourselves to fight again.

The conclusions are obvious. The Nazis have had 11 years in which to educate a generation. That generation is beyond redemption. That generation will be implacable foes to any attempt to "reform" Germany. Anything less than unconditional surrender and stern policing of Germany is an invitation to a third war.

In Passing

According to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, on March 31, 1943, there were 12,854 blind people in Canada, of which 4,013 were in Ontario. The figure for the same date for the previous year was 12,546 which shows an increase of 308 in the number of registered blind in Canada.

One dream of the post-war, at least, is shattered. On the word of the National Committee of Agricultural Engineering, the jeep will make a poor substitute for the tractor. The committee says that the transmission won't stand the strain of heavy, slow pulling.

We noticed one or two ash cans out for emptying. When the householder lights his fire, can winter be far away?

Editor Lyman Jackson wrote 25 years ago: The cry of the politician is heard throughout the land. 'Twas ever thus.

Do not expect an announcement of complete surrender in Germany, the U.S. government information agency warns in a recent release. Long after the main Nazi armies are destroyed, there will still be many large sized pockets of resistance to be mopped up, the agency says.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

QUAKER WEDDING

There are so many different ways of looking at a wedding; to some it's an orgy of dress, music, confetti, a highly decorated car and noise; to some it's a simple, sacred ceremony, the binding together of two people determined to make of life, "one grand sweet song," and to those who are married by a civil official—well, I just don't know what it represents.

But at any marriage ceremony there is something that reaches away down and pulls at the heart-strings, no matter whether the wedding is celebrated in a cathedral, where stained glass and beautiful music form a fitting background for the dignity of prelates and the beauty of traditional costumes and wonderful ritual, or whether it's in a severely plain Friends meeting house, if love is there, there is the same impression of something grand and elemental; the elements of love and dignity and trust on which homes are built, as on rocks.

Something of this went through my mind as we sat in the Friends Meeting House on Yonge St., to see the marriage of Huldah Louise Starr to Raymond William Stanley. Nothing could be more austerely plain than that meeting house; no stained glass windows, no flower-decked altar, no great organ with its thrilling undertone of solemn joy, just a long plain rectangle, with plain seats, some raised and facing the others.

In the raised seats sat the father and mother of the bride and those of the groom, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. M. F. Starr, Mrs. R. Hawtin, and Mr. and Mrs. Cooper of Ohio.

As we sat there in the bright stillness of a glorious autumn afternoon, the door opened and the six attendants entered, arm in arm—Clarabel Hadley of Indianapolis, Anne Marie Smith of Iowa, Doris Dayball of Niagara and Morris Kirk, Albert Hartley and Wilfred Skinner of Ohio.

They walked to their places opposite the high seats, and then came the bride and groom, Huldah looking very lovely in a white silk jersey floor-length gown, and they seated themselves facing the attendants.

The bride's attendants were dressed, two in blue and one in rose silk jersey.

When all were seated, a stillness, which could be felt, settled down on the sunlit room. I suppose this is a time for meditation and searching of heart. I fancy that, to the Friends, concentration is as natural as spoken prayer and praise to our more vocal religions. But my mind refused to stay in one channel. I thought of watching Huldah grow from babyhood to gracious, beautiful womanhood, of little episodes along the way, and of the loneliness that will be ours since she is going from us all.

One felt the mingled joy and sadness that must inevitably attend a wedding—joy that two young people have resolved to found a home, and sadness that, in so doing, so many old ties are broken.

Just at this point Mr. Elmer Starr rose and spoke briefly, and again silence reigned, to be broken by the groom's father, who is a Friends minister and who spoke fervently of the love of God and hope of everlasting life.

After another interval of silence, Huldah and Raymond rose and faced each other and uttered their vows to love and be faithful to one and other till separated by death.

They then signed the register and Mr. J. M. Walton read the attestation required by the government.

Mr. Elmer Starr then said that the young people could now leave the meeting house. The bride and groom walked to some inward rhythm of happiness which made music superfluous.

A reception and wedding supper at the home of the bride's parents, Star Elms, followed and the happy couple left for a short trip before making Rochester, Minn., their home.

For going away the bride wore a brown suit and brown accessories, and a corsage of sunset roses.

The best wishes of this column and its readers follow them to their new home.

CO-OPERATIVES IN SASK.

The following news story, written by a staff correspondent, appeared in a recent issue of the Financial Post:

Regina—The provincial government has promised to act on the findings of a 13-man committee which it has appointed to consider plans for the organization of government-sponsored co-operative farms in this province. Four alternative schemes for the development of co-operative farming in Saskatchewan have been placed before the committee which is expected to suggest a variety of plans for varying sizes of groups of farmers under varying conditions.

Pending completion of the study and report of the committee, the government, through the department of agriculture's co-operation and markets branch, is already promoting and encouraging one of the schemes being studied by the committee, the co-operative ownership of farm machinery.

FOR SMALL FARMER

The four schemes being studied by the committee include:

(1) Organization of small groups of farmers for the single purpose of operating a farm machinery co-operative unit.

(2) Organization of farm machinery and implement units on the basis of the farmer group purchasing power and owning machinery plus co-operative use of labor and co-operative methods of distributing the harvest product.

(3) Establishment of co-operative communities which would provide for themselves all types of social services now available to urban communities. The communities would be formed on the basis of the co-operatives owning the land, machinery and educational, cultural and social facilities required by the community.

(4) Purchase of land by the government to be made available to returned soldiers to establish co-operative farms.

The proposals, arising out of a conference of representatives of agricultural groups and existing co-operatives called together by the government, are based on the premise that while large sized farm operators are able to utilize power machinery economically and in addition to enjoy a reasonable social life operators of small and medium sized farms are unable to operate sufficient equipment and not be crushed by excessive production costs for machinery and labor. Socially the small farmer is discontented because of loneliness, overwork and poor pay.

Final government approval and sponsorship is expected to be given to a combination of the four schemes. Work of the present committee will be mainly that of assembling data on which various programs can be launched. Special reference will be given by the government to the needs of war veterans and when plans are completed in more detail it is believed that negotiations will be opened with federal government officials responsible for administration of the veterans, to bring about amendments to the act to provide for co-operative plans.

Provincial officials interested in the developing plans believe that large-scale operations on a co-operative basis would permit the use of the most modern type of equipment requiring heavy capital outlays which could not be financed by the small farmer individually. They state that such operations would provide for a more efficient division of labor and that it would allow a diversified and more self-sustaining operation than a small farm. Diversified production in large units would not only provide year-long employment for the field worker but would afford more protection against the hazards of farming and would provide a more satisfactory social life for the members of the co-operative unit.

A COMMENDABLE SERVICE

By ORVILLE GANTON

Like Tennyson's Brook, the Newmarket Veterans go quietly along doing a tremendous service for the community. For many years this service consisted entirely of an attempt to better the conditions of the men who served in the first world war. However, with the outbreak of the present conflict, they expanded their activities considerably. The generous support they receive, as well as the volumes of testimonials from overseas, clearly denote how much this splendid service is appreciated. Nevertheless, such a service entails much hard work, although many of the old guard are reaching an age when they should be conserving their energy.

Raising the wherewithal to send cigarettes and parcels to 263 boys overseas is a vast undertaking in itself; however, this is by no means the extent of their work. Caring for an increasing number of World War I veterans is another extensive task that for obvious reasons cannot be publicized in detail.

Through their Last Post fund, and with the co-operation of Newmarket's cemetery board, they are even able to provide a plot and decent burial for veterans who have passed on. Moreover, in raising the funds to carry on this magnificent work they have promoted much enjoyable entertainment for our townsfolk in the form of euchres, dances, boxing shows and other events, thus giving double value for our money.

Alfred Smith, who has ably headed the organization for so many years, is a modest, unassuming type of fellow who has the faculty for getting much done in a quiet efficient manner. John Wright, Geo. Wales and W. Lepard comprise the executive while Alex. McIntosh and G. Petrie have been especially assigned to care for the boys who are overseas. This gallant band of old warriors deserves the highest praise; their work clearly exemplifies the truth of the popular old veterans' ballad, Old Soldiers Never Die.

POT POURRI

By GOLDEN GLOW

I promised last week to tell you boys—and girls, too, of course—about Sir William Mulock's funeral last week. The funeral service was held at St. Paul's Anglican church, Toronto, conducted by the rector, Canon F. H. Wilkinson, while Dr. Cody of the University of Toronto and former rector of St. Paul's, Toronto, gave the address. You would read all about it in last week's paper. The funeral procession was met at the cemetery by Dr. G. H. Johnson, Anglican clergyman of Newmarket, who conducted the service at the graveside.

It was a beautiful, warm autumn day and the cemetery looked like it does on decoration day with crowds and crowds of people, all there to do honor to one whom they had known for so long, and for whom they cherished such a deep affection.

When quite a small child I recall hearing the expression "Sir William's bounty" and it seems that every Christmas he sent roasts of beef and bushels of apples from his own orchard to the needy of our town.

On Saturday two carloads of us, Thanksgiving visitors, went to see the glory and splendor of the autumn colors in the trees in that ravine in Gamble woods, west of Sir William's summer home, and as we drove up the road beside his estate we could see tree after tree of his famous Northern Spy apples so heavily loaded with fruit that the branches had to be propped up, some with five and six props to one tree. It was a beautiful sight and with the walnut grove along the opposite side it makes that road very interesting.

The schumac trees were a flaming scarlet, the oak trees deep crimson, while the maples were all colors, from a brilliant golden to a deep carmine. The sun shone so warm and bright and the air was so clear that you could look from that height away across the tree tops and see Lake Simcoe quite distinctly, and even see Snake Island.

We were not the only ones who went to enjoy the view—car after car drove up and nearly all of us carried field glasses, but it was so clear we really did not need them. Bradford water tower showed up very plain and the marsh, while the rugged hills of Glenville seemed ever so close. The township has cut down the hill and piled the earth over to make a parking place on the edge of the ravine. I think we should give them a vote of thanks for such a thoughtful gesture. We heard many nice compliments paid them and would like to hand them in to the one who suggested it. Cheerio.

A FRESH START

The famous Colonel Page of U.S. civil war days, having been given the command of a company of raw recruits, put them through a preparatory drill, and then led them down a street in Philadelphia.

Suddenly, from out of the ranks, came the command, "Halt!"

Involuntarily the men came to a stop.

"Who gave that command?" yelled the enraged captain.

"Potts, sir, Potts," answered a dozen voices.

"What do you mean sir, by giving that command?" the captain profanely inquired.

"Well, sir," replied Private Potts, "I've been trying for two blocks to get the company to keep step with me, and they wouldn't do it. So I had to stop them so they could get started all over again."

The Era and Express may be purchased in Newmarket at Bolton's, Bell's, Best's, Campbell's, Era and Express office and Spillette's.

25 YEARS AGO

From The Era and Express files, Oct. 10, 1919.

Eggs were 60 cents to 61 cents a dozen at the local market on Saturday. Butter was 55 cents to 58 cents a pound.

Eagle St. has been closed to traffic all summer. The Good Roads Commission has been widening the road and making a new road bed.

Editor Lyman Jackson says: "Boost a man in the paper and he'll forget it in two days, but print something he doesn't like and he'll remember it at your funeral. Once there was an editor who started out to please everybody or bust; he busted."

Gorham St. bridge was completed just in time for the fair. It was a good job, for the Lydia St. bridge gave out the second day of the fair from the heavy traffic.

Yes, we have peace. But we will never have perfect peace until we have paid its price. Canada has hundreds of millions yet to pay before perfect peace is with us. This year's Victory loan will take the load of the war bill off our backs and give us a lift into a prosperous future. The loan is the price of a perfect peace.—Editor Lyman Jackson.

Next Monday is Thanksgiving day and provincial nominations day.

At a town council meeting on Monday evening the mayor stated that he thought the two debentures should not be put on sale until the Victory loan was cleaned up.

Prospect Ave. bridge is just about finished. It is also a substantial structure and a credit to the town.

50 YEARS AGO

From The Era and Express files, Oct. 12, 1894.

The Atlantic Express brought a herd of deer to Newmarket on Tuesday for Lancelot Struthers, Pine Orchard, who has just completed a deer park on his farm. There were seven animals in the herd, some elk and moose.

Shooting on the Holland Marsh is more active than it has been for some time as snipe are reported to be plentiful. Last Friday, C. A. Terry brought home two dozen snipe and some plover. James Gower bagged 35 snipe.

While starting one of the heats during the trial for speed at the fair grounds on Tuesday, a driver named Gowd ran into Charles Willoughby, Keswick. One of the horses kicked Mr. Willoughby's sulky to pieces and injured Mr. Willoughby's arm.

Mel Cook received a bad cut in his hand from a saw at Cane's factory.

A new coat of paint has given the town's hydrants a nice appearance.

There was a splendid market last Saturday, the chief commodities being butter and eggs.

Era and Express classifieds cost 50 cents (25 cents if paid within a week).

A Victory Bond is a mortgage on Canada . . . all of this country's resources guarantee payment of principal and interest. And money you lend to Canada, when you buy Victory Bonds, is the safest investment you can make.

You can borrow on Victory Bonds for seasonal farm requirements or any bank will pay cash for your bonds should you need cash at any time.

Money is a vital war weapon. Canada needs every dollar that every Canadian can save and lend . . . more than ever before. As the war increases in intensity, Canada's need for money increases, too. Our country's all-over borrowing needs are increased by over three hundred and twenty million dollars at this time. We must each be ready to lend again, and to lend more.

Thousands of small grains make a bushel of wheat. So with the money that Canada must borrow, from Canadians, to pay for the war: small sums loaned by individuals mount up to billions.

Lend all you can . . . money you have saved and money you can save . . . but do not think that small loans are unimportant. Put your savings into mortgages on Canada—marketable mortgages. You will be doing a worthwhile war job . . . and you will get your money back . . . with interest.

Victory Bonds will provide cash for farm improvements you plan to make when the war ends . . . new buildings . . . new machinery . . . better stock . . . cash to pay on a new car or a new home.

Our hands are Tied

Requests for changes, extensions, new installations—they all come to the Service Representative. If the need is not directly related to winning the war* she has no alternative but to defer the installation and to put the applicant's name on the waiting list.

Sometimes if the applicant is a business man, she suggests re-arranging facilities at his premises so that no new equipment is needed. In these days of acute telephone shortages, our hands are tied. We are doing our utmost, in the circumstances, to stretch available equipment to the limit.

Officer Reviews Advance Of Troops In France

"Again I wish to thank you for your kind and generous thoughts in sending me more cigarets," reads a letter from Lieut. R. L. Chantler to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "I hope you will forgive my tardiness as the cigarets arrived some two or three weeks ago.

"We have had a very interesting time in the past month even if we have had very little time for correspondence. Our advance through France recently has been amazing to us. Some days we advance as much as 30 miles and other days as little as two to three miles. As an infantry soldier looks at the war in the light of his own immediate front, because it is that particular area he is most concerned with, his mental picture of the war is inclined to become quite localized. In the last month we have all learned again that our advance and that of others must be co-ordinated and mutually supporting. Some of the armchair strategists may not think 25 miles in a day is such a great advance when he looks at the map of France but to the men here it is quite a magnificent feat. I'm sure the men of your association will agree with the men here.

"We have had some other fine experiences such as making attacks while riding on tanks or while riding in priests. The priests are tank hulls open at the top and carry about 12 to 15 men with equipment. While advancing in our many and varied ways we have come through a great deal of country over which you men fought in the last war. It is certainly country that lends itself to defence, so we consider that when the Germans did not make any great stand here this time they must be on the verge of admitting defeat. The American and British troops are doing a magnificent job. I hope they can keep rolling—right to Berlin.

"I rarely see any Newmarket lads as we get little opportunity of seeing anyone outside our unit. I met Capt. Jack Patterson the other day. He is looking exrtremely well and seems very happy. I believe he is with a martime infantry unit."

SEPTEMBER WEDDING

Pte. Clarkson Graham, Newmarket, is shown with his bride, the former Mary Margaret Lucille Croft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Croft, Necum Teuch, N.S. They were married in Newmarket on Sept. 23 at the home of Rev. L. R. Coupland. Best man was the groom's brother, Melville, and bridesmaid was Miss Dora Mae Rush.

Airman Describes Beauty Spots In British Isles

"One would almost imagine that with so much experience it is quite a simple matter to sit down and write a letter expressing gratitude for the thousand and one things our folks at home are doing to make this separation from them easier for us," writes LAC L. R. Willis in a letter to the Newmarket Veterans' Comforts fund. "But you can't find so many words that will do the job satisfactorily.

"Once again the good old Vets have delivered the goods and once again all I can says is thanks a million. This last lot of smokes made record time. The label was postmarked Hamilton, Aug. 31.

"Since D-day we have felt pretty much left out of things in this particular command. At the same time we realize that all of us can't be in the front line. Our boys are finally getting the chance to show the folks at home just what they mean when they say thanks for everything. It has been a long wait for a lot of them.

"Just now predictions as to when Jerry will collapse are a dime a dozen. Today the restrictions on blackouts are being eased a little which will bring gladness into a great many hearts. It is hard to realize that there are children seven and eight years old who do not know what street lamps are like.

"Since my last letter to you I have done quite a bit of travelling. I went to Dundee, Scotland, for ten days' sick leave and really had a marvellous time. The people were grand and did everything possible to make my visit interesting and enjoyable. Since my return from there I have visited Londonderry, Belfast, Portrush and the Giants Causeway.

"There were quite a number of Canadian sailors in Londonderry but unfortunately I did not run into any I knew. The city is quite quaint and we had a very interesting tour through it. There is a huge wall around what is the original city and it was quite interesting to walk around it as it offered a good view of the newer portions of the city.

"Belfast is a very nice place and quite popular with Canadian service personnel. There is a lovely Canadian Legion club which just opened up a few weeks ago and, of course, lots of theatres and dance halls. All in all it is a very pleasant place to spend some time.

"Portrush is a very lovely seaside resort on the north Atlantic coast. I only had a couple of hours there but what little I saw of the place certainly intrigued me. The vacation season was in full swing at the time and there were crowds everywhere. It is only three quarters of an hour run from Portrush up to the famous Giants Causeway. One really has to see it to enjoy it. My only regret was that I didn't have more time in which to explore the whole coastline.

"Well, friends, that seems to cover everything. We are all counting the days until we can recount all these adventures to you personally in peaceful surroundings."

Trinity United Accepts 15 Into Membership

World communion Sunday was celebrated at Trinity United church on Oct. 1. The minister, Rev. Henry Cotton, was in charge of the services morning and evening. At the morning service 15 persons were accepted into the membership of the church.

The choir rendered special music at both services. In the morning they sang In Heavenly Love Abiding, and in the evening sang Lift Up Your Heads, by Dr. John L. Thompson.

AW2 Mary Davis, Rockcliffe, daughter of Aubrey Davis, Newmarket, who was spending the weekend at her home, sang a solo, Nearer my God to Thee, at the morning service and R. N. Smith, Toronto, sang a solo, Fear Not Ye, O Israel, by Dudley Buck.

The organ recital at night by Robt. B. Watson, L.R.C.M., included Pastorall by Wm. Fulks, Ava Maria by Bach-Gounod and Etude by Ernest R. Dicks.

At the evening service Mr. Cotton showed a set of slides entitled The Splendid Conquest. There were about 50 slides, most of which were oil paintings. They dealt with the life of Christ from His boyhood to His ascension.

POT POURRI

By GOLDEN GLOW

I have had letters recently asking if I have seen Lake Simcoe lately, and will I write a bit about it—another request was for a word or two on Musselman's Lake. Lucky nobody has asked for Lake Wilcox for I couldn't tell them anything about it, but I can tell them that Lake Simcoe and Musselman's are lovelier than ever, or was it just because it was a surprise trip—a quite unexpected trip each time this summer when I saw them and each occasion the weather was perfect. The weather, naturally, does throw a glamour, or the reverse, over things, you know.

One day we went up as far as that corner just before you come to Eastbourne—a little way past Roche's Point. We stopped for a while and got out of the car and I saw a sight I won't forget for a while! It was a gorgeous day—sunny and warm—but cool enough in the shade. As we stood on the high bank overlooking the lake just below Snake Island a way, I saw birds circling high above and as they came nearer I saw that they were gulls. At first I saw three or four—then six or seven, then a dozen or more, all circling round, wheeling and dipping so gracefully—then they would all disappear and I couldn't see them for the tall cedar trees that line the shore there.

Later I went down to the water's edge and sat on a big boulder in the sunshine, when all of a sudden in the middle of the lake I saw what looked like a lot of white houses on the far shore. It crystalized my thoughts and I found myself all of a sudden aware of that white group of objects. It was a bit hazy and I couldn't see distinctly till all of a sudden I saw a gull flutter up and fly away—then I certainly "sat up to take notice" for there must have been a hundred or more all out there "riding at anchor" in the middle of the lake. Gulls—heaps of them! The lake was fairly glassy, it was so calm—and the gulls did not appear to move except when one flew away or one, flying, came down to rest on the water. It was a lovely sight—for I haven't seen so many gulls together since that time at Bowmanville I told you about once, when we sat in the car for an hour or more with a crowd of other interested people watching the gulls ride the rollers.

What a good time they did have. A great curling breaker would come rolling in with dozens of gulls riding the crest. When it would break on the beach they'd fly back, like schoolboys coasting, to do it all over again! I once saw a huge bevy of sea-gulls at Deadman's Island in Vancouver harbor beside Stanley Park. It was a sort of backwater and after a storm a lot of fish would be stranded there and the gulls would collect them by the hundreds.

I think I'll have to tell you about the dead whale some young men brought there once at high tide—the highest tide of the month. They thought they'd make their fortune exhibiting it—but alas for them, they hadn't studied the almanac to see how the tides were, for their dead whale was stranded high and dry—yes, "high" is the word, for the whale was dead when they found it and became deader every hour. Instead of making a fortune they were given so long to "abate the nuisance." I laugh yet when I recall that anything but fragrant episode. Well cheerio for this week.

Soldier Says Newmarket Boys Well Cared For

"Just a few lines to thank you for the cigarets which I received the day before I went on my seven days' leave," writes Pte. N. H. Lundy in a letter to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund.

"They sure were welcome as Tommy and I were right out. We have moved around so much it is hard for our mail to catch up with us and we sure are glad to get cigarets from home. You vets are doing a wonderful job and I know all the boys want to thank you."

"Just a few lines to convey my appreciation for the many cigarets which I have received from the Newmarket Veterans' Association in the past months," writes Pte. H. Palmateer. "I must say they really hit the spot. It sure is a grand feeling when you are just fresh out and the mail man says, 'There's 300 smokes for you from your old home town.'

"I have been in Sicily and Italy from the very beginning. I know what rain, mud, dust and, of course, flies, are like, but in the moments of rest and quiet when you can take out the good old Canadian cigaret you just seem to forget it all."

CANADIAN TOBACCO IS BETTER THAN FRENCH

"My thanks to all the veterans who so kindly contributed towards another carton of cigarets which reached me the other day," writes Gnr. J. H. Lister to the Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund.

"They were very welcome and as I think I have said before, I appreciate it the more because I know you have so many lads from Newmarket for whom you are doing the same thing. So far I have never run into any of the boys I knew from there, although I have met several who lived nearby and many who knew Newmarket well."

"Received the pipe tobacco that you sent to me," reads a letter from Tpr. E. S. Rank. "It was very welcome and I am always glad to get Canadian tobacco. I have tried this French tobacco and it sure is some stuff. I see Mel. Haines quite often. He is fine, just like myself.

"We had tough going for a few weeks but everything is going good and I hope that it continues that way. But don't think that we will be home for Christmas unless something happens soon."

German Prisoners Dirty, Hungry And Bewildered

"Many thanks for the 300 cigarets I received from the vets last week," writes Sgt. Stewart Dow in a letter to the Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "They are always greatly appreciated.

"We have left France behind us now and at the present time I am in Belgium. We have had the enemy on the run ever since the break through at Caen and he has lost a great amount of men and equipment and I hardly think he will have the power to make a very solid stand for any great length of time.

"I passed through the centre of the Caen pocket and every road, highway and country lane alike were lined with enemy equipment, knocked out by the air force or our guns. Draught horses were everywhere and it looked as though the Germans were using a lot of horse-drawn vehicles in their attempt to get away—proving their shortage of mechanized transport.

"I have seen thousands of enemy prisoners and they all have the same appearance—dirty, bewildered and in almost all cases, hungry.

"Our advance across France and into Belgium has been very fast and we have received a great welcome from the people everywhere. Some of the towns we pass through were occupied by the enemy until a few hours before our arrival. The streets are always lined with cheering crowds and we get covered with flowers and fruit and there always seems to be a bottle of wine handy.

"Thank you all again for the smokes and I don't think the time is far away when we will be able to thank you all personally."

This year, believe it or not, our exports are more likely to total 75,000,000 dozen, in powdered form! We will be shipping the same quantity in 1945 — plus added millions of dozens of shell eggs, as shipping once more is available! Egg production will necessarily stay high for some time yet — and that means there are PROFITS TO BE MADE IN POULTRY!

CANADA'S VETERANS
Their Post-War Opportunities

The War Service Gratuity and Re-establishment Credit—

OTHER ASSISTANCE AFTER DISCHARGE

The Canadian re-establishment program gives discharged members of the services assistance under a wide variety of measures during the period when they are deciding their future as civilians.

THE WAR SERVICE GRATUITY

This became law at the last session of Parliament, and provides, after discharge, monthly payments to those honorably discharged, who enlisted for service anywhere, and to those who saw service in the Aleutian Islands, for their period of service there. It provides a basic gratuity of $7.50 for each 30 days' service in the Western Hemisphere and $15.00 for each 30 days' service overseas. A supplementary gratuity of seven days' pay and allowances, with Canadian subsistence allowance, is paid for each six months' overseas service. Service in Greenland, Iceland, the Aleutian Islands and any other theatre of war is overseas service. Other places in the Western Hemisphere are not. Aircrew, flying outside the Canadian waters, or stationed outside Canada or the United States, and Naval personnel in sea-going ships of war are regarded as on overseas service.

Monthly payments not exceeding monthly pay and allowances last received will start after January 1, 1945, unless the Act is proclaimed earlier.

RE-ESTABLISHMENT CREDIT

A re-establishment credit, equal to the basic gratuity shown above, and not including the supplementary one is available in the 10 years following discharge for constructive purposes such as purchase of a home, business, furniture or tools, or payment of premiums under Government life insurance. It can also be used for modernizing or repairing a home, for working capital of a business and other similar purposes. The re-establishment credit is reduced by any grants paid while training or continuing education, or by grants paid under the Veterans' Land Act. Training, education and Veterans' Land Act grants cannot be paid if the re-establishment credit is used, unless an adjustment is made.

AT DISCHARGE

At discharge every man and woman is advised of the re-establishment program, is given a complete medical and dental examination, and may receive free treatment for any condition shown by the examination, in the year following discharge. They are allowed to retain one uniform and certain other service clothing. All discharged since August 1, 1944, receive a $100 civilian clothing allowance and if they have 183 days' service and receive an honorable discharge, a rehabilitation grant of 30 days' pay and one month's dependents allowance. They also receive a railway warrant to their home or place of enlistment.

AFTER DISCHARGE

Service personnel seeking employment apply through Employment and Selective Service, but in many offices they will find Veterans' Welfare Officers and other specially trained staff ready to assist them. Veterans who wish to return to their former civilian positions are entitled to reinstatement in that position, if the job still exists, if they are capable of filling it, and if application is made within three months of discharge. Under the law of Canada every ex-service man or woman with overseas service, or disability pensioners, receive preference in Civil Service appointments if qualified for the position for which they apply.

VETERANS' WELFARE OFFICERS ARE STATIONED IN KEY CENTRES THROUGHOUT CANADA. THEY ADVISE AND ASSIST EX-SERVICE PERSONNEL, AND SHOULD BE CONSULTED ON ALL PROBLEMS.

In Memoriam

Lawson—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mereda J. Lawson, who entered into rest seven years ago today, on Oct. 12, 1937.

In our home she is fondly remembered,
Sweet memories cling to her name;
Those who loved her in life sincerely,
Still love her in death just the same.
Sadly missed and ever remembered by her husband and family.

Manning—In loving memory of my dear sister, Mrs. Frank Manning, who passed away Oct. 15, 1943.

What would I give her hand to clasp,
Her patient face to see;
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
As in the days that used to be?
I watched you suffer day by day,
And could not help in any way,
But just stood by and saw you pass
Into the Saviour's arms at last.
But some sweet day we'll meet again,
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hand once more,
In Heaven, that happy land.
Sadly missed by her sister, Eva Smith.

Smith—In loving memory of our dear son, Kenneth, who passed away Oct. 16, 1936.

From our happy home and circle
God has taken one we loved,
He is borne away from sin and sorrow
To a nobler rest above.
No one knows how much we miss him,
None but aching hearts can tell;
Lost on earth, but found in Heaven—
Jesus doeth all things well.
Sadly missed by mother and dad.

AURORA, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12TH, 1944

SINGLE COPIES, 5 CENTS EACH

Sask. C.C.F. Vote Protest, Raymond Cook Thinks

Raymond Cook, young Aurora theological student at Victoria College, Toronto, has returned home from Saskatchewan after spending four months as a student preacher at Neidpath United church. Included in his duties were two other churches, which meant Mr. Cook preached three times each Sunday, doing a 41-mile trip most Sundays by bicycle, although occasionally being driven by the members of the congregation, He travelled around 1,400 miles during his rounds, but despite this heavy grind managed to put on five pounds.

He reports crops in the vicinity in which he was stationed as very good, although three years ago this was in the so-called dust bowl area. It is the third good year of crops, and he says there seems to be no practical explanation for the cycle. This year there was a little more rain than usual.

One hundred miles west of Swift Current, the nearest city to him, crops were a failure this year, but the general farm situation in the west is good and harvesting is well advanced. He got in a few days himself to help the situation.

There were quite a few Norwegians in Mr. Cook's congregations but the people were mostly from eastern Ontario.

The district in the Saskatchewan election voted C.C.F. and were expecting big changes in short order, despite the fact the government was only in power a few months.

"I don't think they understand very much about socialism," Mr. Cook stated. "The vote was more of a protest vote. They felt they hadn't received much for quite a few years from the old parties and wanted a change."

Enlistments from the district were high and the people made the most of the labor shortage.

After spending a week with his father, Charles Cook, and Mrs. Cook, he returned to his studies at the University of Toronto. Mr. Cook was the guest speaker at Pottageville United church on Sunday. Next Sunday he will speak at Aurora United church.

TOOK MONTH TO GET TRAIN RESERVATIONS

Home on leave from the British embassy at Washington, D.C., is Pte. Dorothy McGann, Aurora, daughter of Mrs. Victoria McGann.

One of the first Aurora girls to join the army, Dorothy has been in Washington for over a year. She describes Washington as a beehive of activity, with housing conditions and meal facilities taxed to capacity. It took her nearly a month to get the necessary train reservations to make the trip home.

"Canadians are well received in the U.S.A.," she said. "There is a girl whose parents live at Vandorf in Washington too, Her husband is overseas. Washington is crowded to capacity and rumors arise every day concerning some aspect of the war, most of them entirely different from what actually transpires."

Geo. Bowser Spent 37 Years On Family Farm

Funeral services were held on Saturday for George Bowser of R. R. 2, Aurora, one of the district's best known and most respected farmers.

Mr. Bowser was 78 and was born just north of Aurora in Whitchurch township. He had resided in the township all his life and farmed the present family farm for 37 years.

Mr. Bowser's death came suddenly. He was in good health and active in the affairs of the farm until a few weeks before he died. He was a member of Mount Pisgah United church. His wife predeceased him four years ago.

Surviving him are a son, Charles, and two daughters, Mary, at home, and Mrs. Wesley Monteith, Toronto.

Rev. E. C. Moddle conducted the widely attended funeral service. Interment was at Aurora cemetery. The pallbearers were life-long friends, Reginald Wood, Walter Taylor, George Robinson, William Botham, Shepley Ball and Leo Niddery.

WED 51 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mount, Wellington St., celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary last Thursday.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Orchids to Newmarket camp softballers who staged a garrison finish to annex the armored corps championship after one of the weirdest series in years. Down two games in a best of five series, the boys from No. 23 were awarded one game as a penalty to a loaded bat being used by pitcher Thorne of No. 2 in one game. Both teams were dissatisfied with the verdict and when no agreement between them was arrived at the series was declared a best two of three joust with No. 2 one game up.

Jack Moon was brought back from furlough as a last resort by Lieut. Bob Kennedy to replace Joint McComb on the mound, whose offerings No. 2 had affectionately greeted. Moon, who had not pitched since the regular schedule, was the tonic needed and, while hit hard, he was cool and walked only a few with the result that No. 23 took a 12-6 verdict to tie the series.

It was a heartbreaker for his mound rival, Chow Thorne, to lose, for he struck out 16 and banged out a homer, enough to win most games, only to have his mates play erratic ball behind him. That win was all Newmarket needed and they were in fine fettle for the sudden death encounter at Shier Park, Allandale, last week, which was once the scene of historic York-Simcoe battles. No. 2 appeared leg-weary and listless. Nary an error was made by Newmarket while No. 2 had three juicy mishaps in the field which was just about enough to turn the tide.

Long John Callanan moved into shortstop for the finals and was an important cog in the win, making many fine plays. Tommy Jamieson, ace pole-vaulter of the camp, played dandy ball in the outfield. He banged out a two-bagger to drive in two runs. When Clarke lost his easy outfield fly in the fourth two more runs came in.

Bernie Gantner, who two years ago was the best keystone performer in the district, after a drab season regained his form and had two valuable hits while his chatter did much to pep up the team. Kuigelmas and Jimmy Fennell both got two singles with Avison and Paisley getting the others. No. 2 had eight hits, one less. Fennell has developed into one of the fanciest first-sackers ever to perform in these parts. Originally posted to Hamilton, he had his orders cancelled at the last moment to remain in Borden.

Lieut. Bill Paisley, however, moved to Hamilton but was granted permission to return for the final game by that centre and made a rush job of it, too.

The record over the season for C.A.C. competition shows No. 2 winning 15 and losing four, whereas Newmarket won ten and lost eight. Between the two teams the actual count was 4-2 for No. 2 but the pay-off games were the ones the Kennedy clan were able to take and they are the ones that really count.

Highlights of the season's end, we would say, were the improved fielding of the Newmarket team and the re-arrangement of personnel until a winning machine was found. Sgt. Clair Exelby, who like Gantner was not his old self this season, was benched for the final two games but did yeoman service as director of traffic from the bench. We understand "Ex" intends to retire from sport for good. The addition of Jamieson to the team was another gem, as was the choice of Moon for the mound. Sammy Hayward improved behind the plate too.

Credit for keeping the team in good spirits, battling out every point on the field and in the committee room and taking the bitter with the sweet, one of the main reasons for the ultimate success, goes to Lieut. Bob Kennedy, Sgt. Jack McDonald and Capt. Eric Osborne, the masterminds.

The winning line-up was: c, Sammy Hayward; p, Jack Moon and Joint McComb; 1b, Jimmy Fennell; 2b, Bernie Gantner; 3b, Bill Paisley; of, Harvie Avison, Tommy Jamieson, Hugo Kuigelmas; umpires, Clair Exelby and Bob King. Others used over the season included Jimmy Green, Jack Barrow, Cliff Mills, Andy Armstrong, who are not at camp now, and Red Crowley, Bellamy and Ed. Cunningham, still at the camp but on the retired list. Both teams welcomed the end of a long drawn-out season and we think it is a fair commentary to say that of the two teams No. 2 appeared to be the most "browned-off" at the end.

Billy Taylor, ace centreman of the Toronto Leafs two years ago, is now in Toronto and, according to those in the know, is headed for a discharge which will mean the Toronto team will have another ace forward in tow. That would make a complete forward line, with Metz and Schriner other additions. Taylor was hogfat when we saw him last but has played some softball and lacrosse and the added weight will come off and leave him strong for action.

Lieut. Bob Bangay was another hockeyist we forgot to mention last week among those present at Newmarket camp but we understand that Lieut. Bangay, long a favorite in these parts, will shortly move elsewhere, although strange things often happen.

Nick Bangay, the younger of the two and a hockey star in his own right, both at Newmarket and Markham, is seeing action in France these days, we learn. Bill Bird, who played for both Barrie Lions in junior C and Barrie Colts in junior B against Aurora teams, has been wounded in action in Italy, according to latest dispatches.

Rugby fans will be interested in learning of a few statistics made as to injuries. At two berries per copy an insurance company in the U.S.A. has written accident policies on 8,000 players. Their investigators find that the first five minutes of the third period is the time most injuries occur and that the player most likely to be injured is one of the half-backs. Least likely to be hurt is the centre or snap of the team. If some insurance company in Canada would take on schoolboy policies here we would have a lot more teams.

Injuries have been a means many school boards, especially in smaller towns, have taken to discourage the students from playing football. Figures on injuries in cities like Toronto are surprisingly low. Good condition 99 percent of the time will prevent injuries of any sort.

Major A. H. Adams of Newmarket has been appointed sports supervisor of the north zone of M.D. 2. Plans have been laid for an increased sports program at all centres calculated to provide more entertainment for the troops. When peace comes, with demobilization a big problem, sports and P.T. are destined to play a big part, along with entertainment and hobbies, in keeping morale high. Quite a few Sunday games, for which there is no charge or advertising, have been played this year, especially in the bigger cities and bigger camps. Toronto has seen softball and soccer in recent weeks as has North Bay and Camp Borden.

The boys have their regular church service in the morning and then in the afternoon outside, under healthful conditions, can see their favorite sports. It's good for morale, keeps a lot of lads out of mischief or otherwise moping around a big city with little to do. When the war is over Sunday sports is going to be a problem that will receive a lot of attention. So much has been said on the merits and demerits that we don't intend to add our two cents worth, but from personal observation, religious observance and good, clean sport can go hand in hand without anybody being hurt.

Ralph Adams is beating the drums at North Bay for an artificial ice palace and sports centre as a war memorial for the Gateway City. It seems hard to believe a city as prominent in sports as North Bay hasn't one. More and more municipalities are thinking along the same lines, Kitchener and Waterloo being the latest to adopt the idea and to get things in the planning stage.

Leon Shropshire, veteran rural series hockey player, was married last week, his bride being Muriel Proctor of Mono Road. Leon has probably played his last season but for the past ten years has done yeoman service for Schomberg, King City and Maple, being a member of the King team which won the Ontario championship. He was invariably one of the best players in any group he played in, being tireless in his efforts. He also performed at softball for Schomberg and Aurora in the York-Simcoe league.

Charlie Case, another veteran, insists he has played his last hockey and intimates he will confine himself to refereeing this winter. Good ice officials are not easy to find and Case would be a welcome addition to the ranks of district arbiters. Tommy Myers and Bob Peters have both proved their worth in O.H.A. circles and Charlie will seek an O.H.A. appointment this year. The local junior clubs would make no mistake in giving "Casey" a chance and recommending him to O.H.A. secretary, Bill Hewitt, for a trial.

Shepperton, pride of the Fred Schelke menage at Gormley and ace horse on the Canadian circuits, has been withdrawn from further competition this year by Mr. Schelke and the chances are the big steed may never race again. A knee injury sustained on the American circuit at Garden City track failed to respond to treatment. Shepperton was a favorite to repeat in the Canadian championship and if he had done so would have brought a purse of $5,100 to Mr. Schelke. He has won close to $50,000 in purses during his career and it is to be hoped he will have a chance to reach that figure next year, but experts think he will be retired.

Lieut. Jimmy Cochrane, Unionville, one-time member of Markham juniors but better known as a member of Richmond Hill Roses softballers in the York-Simcoe softball circuit, while serving with the Imperial army in France, led his platoon in the thick of things to capture a position and take 19 German prisoners. Jimmy personally accounted for two himself. Lieut. Cochrane was originally with the Queen's York Rangers, the county battalion. At present he is having a well earned leave in England.

We learn that Dr. Neil Smith, Stouffville dentist, a former baseball player and one of that sports biggest boosters in North York, now holds the rank of major and is in Italy with the Canucks. Major Smith married a Canadian girl while overseas and his wife was among Canadian brides returning to Canada not long ago. She was one of a small group of child training authorities from Canada who went overseas when the bombs were flying fast and the juvenile problem was at its highest in the British Isles, and there met Dr. Smith for the first time.

Harold Echlin, catcher for Richmond Hill softballers, arrived overseas a few weeks ago as an air bomber ready to go to work. "Ekky" and Charlie VanZant were great rivals behind the plate a few years back and there was little to choose between them. Harold enlisted with the R.C.A.F. three years ago but was confined to ground duties. When the opportunity came he remustered for air crew training and now wears three stripes. He was married two years ago. Richmond Hill, next to Aurora, has supplied probably more players to the armed forces than any of the other clubs, Ronnie O'Dell, George Stong, Jimmy Crean, John and Norman Mabley, Jack Brockbank, Steve Young, Ren. Brown, Timmy Saul, Jake ("The Umpire") Koning, Jimmy Cochrane, along with Echlin being among those we recall, a smart ball team in itself.

Dr. R. H. Judge, Bradford, a former member of the Aurora Golf club and one who did much to boost sport at Celerytown, has opened a practice in Toronto, his practice being taken over by Dr. P. Bailey. Mrs. Judge was also a member of the Aurora club a few years back.

A memorial service was held at Willowdale United church recently in memory of the late George Rothwell, well-known North York and Aurora R.C.O.C. athlete killed in France a few months ago. The service was under the auspices of the local Canadian Legion Branch.

Red Mitchell, who last year played for Richmond Hill Combines, winners of the Richmond Hill and district hockey title, who went on in the O.H.A. minus his services because the O.H.A. refused a certificate, has apparently been given the green light by selective service and is now in training with Chicago Black Hawks after a year's absence. Mitchell, who is a Toronto boy, is a pretty fair defenceman and was received with open arms by Paul Thompson. He has resided at Richmond Hill the past few years.

Met Jack McCarron the other day. That perhaps doesn't mean much to the present day athletes but those old enough to think back to the 20's and the final days of Metropolitan hockey in the district will remember Jack as a capable winger with Aurora for a couple of seasons at the time Percy Devins, Paddy Richards, Lefty and Wyatt Baldwin, Dooley Butler, the late Gene Underhill, John Billing, Cecil Fleury, Shorty Boynton and Kid Harman, among others, were wearing the black and orange Aurora sweaters.

In those days Jack resided in Whitchurch township and was farming. Now he is the proprietor of one of Toronto's most popular taverns, located on Queen St. He has taken on quite a bit of weight but otherwise looks just about the same as he did when in action for Fred Browning.

Country girls make good might be the heading of the success story of three district girls who went to Toronto and made good in softball. As we mentioned a week ago Marj. McCarnan of Newmarket was one of a quartet of .300 hitters in the Toronto Sunnyside loop. Since then her team has passed out of the play-offs and the season is over.

Bobby Rosenfeld, the Globe's expert on feminine sports, in picking two girls' all-star teams picks La McCarnan for the right field spot on the second team. Marj. played mostly on the infield but, of course, is a dandy outfielder and we don't think the fans will agree with Miss Rosenfeld's choice of the first team. Her first team nominee was Bea Sanderson of S.M.C. who batted some 62 percentage points behind the Newmarket girl and she explains her choice by saying "although she hits below McCarnan, Bea's hits have been timely driving in 22 runs." Well, for our money, we will take Marj., having seen both girls play. No matter about first or second team, it is something to be up there with the best in the business.

Another Newmarket girl, Moss Doane, playing her first year of steady play in Toronto, has been performing well for York Brass, who finished on top of the Sunnyside intermediate group and appear headed for the pennant. Moss has been up near the top with the hitters all season and the final summary shows her with a neat .371 total, to put her in fourth place among the group hitters. She is a first rate fielder too and when she appeared with her team at Newmarket on July 1, the blonde bomber looked just about the best of the crowd. Needless to say, with a batting average that heavy, plus all-round ability, the senior teams will probably be seeking her services next season.

The third of our trio is Jeanne Channon, who hails from Uxbridge and is performing for the second straight year in the Danforth senior league with a team sponsored by a soft drink firm. Jeanne rates mention in all departments, as a pitcher de luxe, long distance hitter and speedy fielder and there are few better players for all-round ability to compare with the Uxbridge girl.

A few years back Lefty Hooper of Thornhill ladies was one of the really great players at the Sunnyside circuit and, of course, Alma ("Jimmy") Goulding, Rita Haight and Tiny McCloskey of Aurora, along with Jessie McLean of Maple, showed their class on the diamond in the Queen city too. We can doubtless expect to see some of the present crop of players in Newmarket and Aurora go places in future years.

Richmond Hill, which in the past few years has pretty well led the way in sports for the kids and solving juvenile problems, has formed a post-war planning committee which is studying things now. Victory celebrations are all right. They will be spontaneous enough in themselves without requiring too elaborate a plan. After all, people have different ideas as just how they want to celebrate. We are not deprecating plans started for celebrations but rather we feel that the long range program as tackled by Richmond Hill is the one that needs the most attention and action right now. Aside from the immediate action committees, two other important committees have been named, "Community Centre," headed by Editor Jack Smith, and "Youth Program," headed by Provincial Officer Howard Jackman.

There seems to be some livewires on all the committees and we think the divisions named are excellent. Officer Jackman looks like the right man in the right place, having for some years past been an outstanding exponent of adequate recreation facilities for the younger generation. He is quite an expert onion-grower too. Other municipalities should take a look at the Hill set-up before going too heavily into other plans.

Let Smith do it is something more than a by-word at St. Andrew's College this year. The junior football team has three fast backs all answering to the name of Smith. Tom Smith is the easiest to distinguish for he is no relation to the other two, Murray Smith and Fraser Smith, designated Smith primus and Smith secundus in true prep. school style. The junior Andreans topped U.T.S. juniors 6-0 last Friday at Aurora and the Smiths accounted for all the points. Egad, sir, how can the Andreans go wrong when they yell "Come on Smith" or a "Yeah, Smith"? The Smiths are good enough to play with the firsts too, or just about and one of them is doing so.

Ten years ago Billy Whitaker, Gus and Frank Madsen and Punk Morton, all current stars of the St. Catharines Athletics Eastern Mann Cup title seekers, were members of the St. Kitt's junior team which put out Aurora Rangers in the third round of the Ontario play-downs. This foursome was not only playing junior but some of them were playing senior the same year, one of the things that went to kill off lacrosse, especially among the smaller centres. Hockey, fortunately, until war regulations came into effect, was more sensible on the subject and such a situation just couldn't happen. We fear the worst for minor hockey, when they will allow a lad to play in two or three different age series, simply because he's young enough and good enough to do so.

The Aurora boys who went down to defeat against a packed team were: Ted Brower, Syd. Lustic, George Lang, Ernie James, Don Willson, Ben. Cox, Jr., Jack Babcock, Harry Grainger, Chuck Bennitz, the late Wes. Heaney, Bob Benville, Leon. Scott, Derb. Hartford and the late Bruce Stiles, the majority of them on active service now. Two of the players have died in the service and Jimmy Closs, the team trainer, and George Hart, the coach, were both victims of the grim reaper early in life.

MA AND PA

The proud parents of the five famous brothers of Waterloo, Iowa: Thomas Mitchell as "Dad" Sullivan and Selena Royle as "Ma" in the warm-hearted production of "The Sullivans," which plays Monday and Tuesday at the Strand theatre, Newmarket. Anne Baxter is also featured in the cast which includes Edward Ryan, Trudy Marshall, John Campbell, James Cardwell, John Alvin and George Offerman, Jr.

Soldiers Say Thank You To Newmarket Veterans

"Just a few lines from Alf to express my thanks and appreciation for the parcel of cigarets which I received today," writes Sgt. A. Elphinstone in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund.

"I am still here in England and am afraid it is as far as I am going to get. I sure would like to have gone across the channel and followed on into Germany. The boys are certainly making good progress and giving the Germans lots of their own medicine.

"I have been up near Birmingham for a few weeks. It is very quiet after what we were used to—the sirens going every hour or so, the buzz-bombs coming over and our bombers going and coming. Since we came here we have heard only our own planes. I do not think the war will last much longer. What do you think?

"I am keeping fine and hope it will not be too long before we all get back home and meet our many kind friends who have been so faithful and given so much of their time and energy to make it possible for us boys over here to be supplied with smokes and other comforts. I doubt very much if there is any other community in Canada who has done any greater service for their boys overseas than our town of Newmarket.

"I met young McGann today. He is driving an ambulance. I did not get a chance to talk to him though."

A FIRM WITH the world-wide reputation of the Glidden Paint Company believes that no amount of research is wasted in the paint manufacturing business. That is why such a product as their Jap-A-Lac, to name only one of the Glidden Company's many famous lines, has continued to be synonymous with perfection in interior paint. No product reflects the importance of quality more conclusively than paint. With a paint, painstaking care in application is useless if the quality of the paint itself is not good. That is the reason "quality" merchants across the country take pleasure in giving prominence to their Glidden products, secure in the knowledge that a customer who purchases a Glidden paint product will come back, a satisfied customer, with a justified confidence in a service which has recommended a paint which paid dividends in suave, smooth appearance from the first swath of the brush.

NEW SPOTLIGHT, turned on the Civil War. "BY VALOUR AND ARMS." Five hundred and thirty-eight pages of rawboned history of the Civil War which is not the formalized narrative of Lee and Jackson, but a lusty re-awakening of the times in which "scoundrels and mountebanks work and cheat in the red glare of Vicksburg guns." Author James Street continues the adventures of Morna Dabeny who in "Tap Roots," many will remember, emerged as quite a heroine before whom even Scarlett O'Hara could pale. "BY VALOUR AND ARMS" is a book for autumn and winter reading, a book to add to the home library with deliberation and satisfaction. Longmans Green. 3.50.

TOO OFTEN a head cold, started in the early autumn, makes the rounds of the entire household in varying degrees of intensity. Dishes, dish cloths and tea towels may carry the virus. The most satisfactory way to check this possibility at the source is to use a few drops of Javex in the dish water. Javex, nationally known as an exceedingly potent antiseptic, requires only a few drops in the dishwater to disinfect sink, dishwater mop, etc., so as to make them hygienically free of the germ which might otherwise do its busy best with the family. Javex, being a concentrate, makes javel water from the handy brown bottle as you need it, excellent, of course, for bleaching household linen and cottons.

IN [illegible] NEVER TO BE TIRED (McClelland and Stewart), eminent psychologists reveal the result of research on the fatigue question, with conclusions which may surprise you. That boredom or a repeated thinking habit can be mistaken for mental fatigue, that the brain seldom actually tires, but merely rejects certain oft-repeated stimuli, that so-called mental strain can be relieved by turning out more rather than less work, are some of the statements advanced by Marie Beynon Ray and backed by the findings of well-known psychologists.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Toronto Man Is Found Guilty On Theft Charge

In an aftermath to an accident in which his car collided with a hydro pole on Yonge St., George Cullingham, R. R. 3, Mount Albert, pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving in magistrate's court, Newmarket, on Friday. Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe fined the accused $10 and costs with an alternative of ten days in jail.

Provincial Constable William A. Melbourne, who investigated the accident, told his worship that Mr. Cullingham had said that he had fallen asleep at the wheel. The car, he said, was badly damaged and the defendant and his passenger taken to York County hospital.

Pleading guilty to a charge of illegal possession of liquor, Bruce Munshaw, Toronto, was fined $10 and costs or one month in jail.

County Constable Ronald Watt testified that he searched the defendant's car at midnight on Sept. 30 at Wilcox Lake and found 12 pints of beer, one bottle of which was opened and partly consumed. His worship ordered the beer confiscated.

A charge of theft laid against Gordon McNeice, Toronto, was dismissed and his companion, John Harvey, Toronto, who was jointly charged, was found guilty and remanded one week for sentence.

The defendants were charged with stealing a blanket, two pillows, two pillowcases, three jugs and a mirror, the total value of which was estimated at under $25, from the cabins of Carl Swanson, Schomberg Junction, on Sept. 21.

Questioned by Crown Attorney Arleigh Armstrong, Mrs. Nora Swanson, wife of the owner of the cabins, testified that Mr. McNeice, Mr. Harvey and two women rented cabins from her on the evening of Sept. 20. She stated that after they left the following morning she went to make up the cabins and she discovered the articles missing. Mrs. Swanson said that she later saw the women who were with the defendants, on Yonge St. in Aurora and pointed them out to the police.

Cross-examined, the witness stated that she did not actually see Mr. Harvey and Mr. McNeice take the articles but that no other persons had visited the cabins.

Constable Aubrey Fleury told his worship that Mrs. Swanson had come to the police station at about 1.15 p.m. on Sept. 21 and reported the articles stolen.

"We drove along Yonge St. and Mrs. Swanson spotted the girls," stated the officer. He added that he questioned the women and learned the addresses of the defendants.

According to Detective Sgt. Robert Martindale, York county police, he and Constable Allan Wallace went to the home of Mr. McNeice in Toronto and after questioning him, the accused admitted being at the cabins with Harvey and the two women.

The officer said that he told the defendant to go up to his apartment and bring down the articles taken from the cabins, but after waiting 10 minutes, he investigated and found that Mr. McNeice had disappeared.

Constable Martindale said that then he went to Mr. Harvey's address but was unable to find him. He left Constable Wallace in charge while he returned to the police station for a warrant. While at the station he said he received a telephone call from Constable Wallace who reported that Mr. Harvey had attempted to leave the premises with some of the stolen articles.

The officer stated that he later found McNeice walking along he street with his wife. The former told him that when he had gone upstairs, he escaped by the rear of the house and went to Harvey's home to warn him about the police. When the police pulled up in front of Harvey's home, Mr. McNeice told him that he left by the back door.

Cross-examined, the witness stated that Mr. McNeice denied any knowledge of the stolen articles and that he did not find any of these articles at Mr. McNeice's home.

Called to the stand Constable Wallace corroborated Constable Martindale's evidence.

In defence, Mr. McNeice, who said that he was 22, admitted that he had been with Mr. Harvey at the cabins but denied that he knew anything about the missing articles.

Cross-examined by the crown he admitted being convicted in 1940 in Toronto on a charge of shop lifting and theft and being given a suspended sentence.

"Are you asking me to believe that you were in the rear seat of the car and did not see the blanket, pillows and other articles back there?" asked Magistrate Woodliffe.

"Yes," replied Mr. McNeice.

"Your actions were very suspicious," continued his worship. "The police officers were very kind to you, in fact, too kind. What they should have done was to search your place. They did not want to embarass you before your wife. I've a great doubt as to the truth of your evidence. However, I feel that I should give you the benefit of the doubt, slight as it is. So I am dismissing the charge against you."

Giving further evidence in the charge against Mr. Harvey, Sgt. Martindale stated that the defendant had given a statement in which he admitted that he and Mr. McNeice had been at the cabins on the evening of Sept. 20 and of taking the articles. He said that they had picked the girls up in North Toronto.

"You are 22, you are no boy," Magistrate Woodliffe declared. "Maybe the other fellow with you led you into it. I'm inclined to think so. He seems to be kind of a smart alec. I'm going to remand you in custody one week for judgment."

Fire Prevention Week

TOWN OF NEWMARKET

The week of Oct. 8-14 has been set aside by royal proclamation as Fire Prevention Week for the purpose of impressing upon the public consciousness the enormous waste of life and property occasioned by fire and the means to be taken to reduce this tragic and unnecessary wastage.

When it is considered that in the first nine months of 1944, 14 people lost their lives and $7,879,063 in property damage was caused through fire, it is easily apparent that something must be done about it. Fire is a disease that annually saps our national wealth and every citizen should resolve to do his bit to wipe out this menace to our happiness and prosperity.

Every citizen can be a soldier in this campaign by simply being careful with fire, by disciplining himself in his smoking habits, by seeing that every fire hazard in his home, store or factory is removed and by knowing what to do should a fire start.

Our soldiers, sailors and airmen are battling a grim enemy on far-away fronts. Let us battle that other enemy —the Fire Demon—on the "Home Front." We too can help to win the war by preventing fires. Every fire is small in its incipiency but it might easily reach the proportions of a conflagration. Our duty is to see that a fire does not start.

This week, in the press, over the radio, in theatres and from the platform, John Q. Citizen will be exhorted to use every care with fire, not only during Fire Prevention Week but every week in the year. It would be well for him to take this advice to heart and to make Canada a fire-safe country in which to live.

JOSEPH BRAMMAR,
FIRE CHIEF.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC VOTER

T. C. Watson, a Newmarket resident now living at Roche's Point, and an old athelte of bygone days, made a special effort to be on hand at the election to lend his support to the town in the arena question.

Mr. Watson was a champion bicycle speedster in his day and claims that all recreation facilities should be for the betterment of the town and its younger populace.

Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons of last week Stuart Scott school ground was turned into a field of sporting activities when boys and girls took part in different field and track events. The children have been training and practising for weeks for this day and showed their efforts by breaking records of the previous year.

It was the second annual field day of the Newmarket public schools and F. L. Hall said he hoped it would carry on and become an established feature in the school program and also in the hearts and minds of the boys and girls.

Mr. Hall said that field days always bring champions but they are few and if all interest centred around these few the value of activity would be greatly decreased. But this is not the case in a public school sports day as 90 percent of the pupils play at these field sports throughout the term.

More than a year ago Mr. Hall suggested to Mr. Jackson and the school board a plan which had already been proven in his previous school, whereby pupils were encouraged to reach established standards for their age groups. Thus the pupils were not discouraged by greater powers in others. On the contrary, he said, they strove diligently to reach the standards required to qualify them for the final field day.

He also said that it was good wholesome fun and that the friendly spirit which accompanies the success of others is most commendable.

This is the outstanding feature of a public school field day: it includes all pupils.

There is a great deal of work conected with this activity and each member of the staff has a duty to perform which brings pupil and teacher closer together in understanding one another.

Last year prizes were awarded by the school board, this year by the Home and School Association. Prizes consist of six medals for the champs. Councillor Frank Bowser and Dr. R. L. Hewitt are also awarding special prizes.

The boys and girls seem interested and keen to participate. They are not delinquents while in this frame of mind. Let us as parents, teachers and school boards keep this sort of recreation on the march and add to it other similar activities.

The teachers are to be congratulated on their efforts. Now let us get behind them and make it an annual event for years to come.

The arena is ours; let us make it a place to be proud of. Lend your hand and suggestions to the town council and prove that it is not a public burden.

Joe Smith's bowling alleys are in full swing once again. The alleys are in tip-top shape ready for the five-pin league to open.

The ladies, taking advantage of the reconditioned alleys on Tuesday evening, jockeyed for positions in averages for team mates. The girls are throwing some nice bowls and Rose Lee is back again, rolling 311 points for a single to take top place for the first evening of play.

The meeting at Geer and Byers office this evening should find eight or more entries in the men's league with the opening night a few days hence. The deHaviland entry, first place team of last year, has been weakened by the loss of Captain Ernie Bennitz, but "Hoot" Gibson has a few secrets in store and promises to be in there stronger than ever.

Herman Gilroy, a lifetime golfer, is having his troubles this year on the fairways and finds the younger blood is picking the game up fast. Gil, unable to repeat past years' performances, fell another notch on Sunday at Summit when Arthur Peppiatt, a newcomer, gave Herm a setback. Art was able to hold his handicap and take the semi-finals in the Charles Dawson Memorial trophy.

Pep is now waiting for the finals and should make the going rather hazardous for George Barnes, another expert golfer.

On Tuesday evening No. 23 kids were hosts to the Brantford army nine and played bang up ball to eke out a 6-4 decision in the last inning. Bernie Gantner, second baseman, clouted a homer to deep left field, bringing in two runs ahead of him. Tommy Jamieson also played perfect ball, nipping off many a hard drive to centre field and accounting for two "Babe Ruth" specials.
